Tarkett was founded over 130 years ago and is now the largest resilient manufacturer in the world with over 28 production centers in more than 100 countries. In North America, Tarkett owns and operates nine manufacturing units that support a distribution network extending across the United States and Canada. Its comprehensive product lines are renowned in the industry for their high quality, diversity and innovation.

Tarkett uses some of the most sophisticated technologies available to produce a broad range of resilient sheet and tile, linoleum, hardwood and laminate flooring products under the names Tarkett[®], Azrock[®] by Tarkett, and Expressions[™] by Tarkett.

All of Tarkett's commercial products are designed to meet the styling and installation needs of a diverse customer base, ranging from education and healthcare facilities to high-fashion retail stores and grocery stores.

In addition to style and function, Tarkett also maintains a strong focus on producing environmentally sound products as well as constantly seeking green manufacturing systems and new recycling methods in all phases of a product's life. As the first North American resilient flooring manufacturer to offer a reclamation program, Tarkett recycles waste from installations into new flooring projects in all US plants. In addition, the Quality Management Systems for all manufacturing facilities have been awarded ISO 9001:2008 registration and all Tarkett Commercial products are FloorScore certified as well as help contribute to achieving potential

LEED points.
