Specialized in the production of high quality resilient flooring, Mondo is recognised as a world leader in the production of rubber and PVC flooring, designed for both sport and contract applications. The sports division not only provides highly innovative surfaces for various disciplines as well as equipment, video screens and seats for sports facilities and stadiums

Mondo concentrates its R&D efforts on the creation of floorings that are ergonomically correct for the human body. Care and attention are given to the chromatic selections and design in realising comfortable environments that have considerable aesthetic impact. Thanks to its rigorous research Mondo manufactures surfaces that satisfy the biomechanics of the human body.
